Questions

What people ask before they start

Something not covered here? Ask us directly and an engineer will answer.

Ask a question (https://codetrappers.com/contact/)

Usually not. Behaviour and segment can drive what WordPress shows without buying another subscription, and a platform you have to feed is worth it only at a scale most sites never reach.

It should not. Done carelessly it breaks caching and hurts both, so the rule is that anything crawlers and first-time visitors see stays static, and the variation happens where it cannot cost you a Core Web Vitals score.

Content, calls to action, offers and navigation, by segment, referrer, location or past behaviour. Starting with one meaningful variation and measuring it beats twenty rules nobody can reason about later.
