Questions

What people ask before they start

Something not covered here? Ask us directly and an engineer will answer.

Ask a question (https://codetrappers.com/contact/)

Core, theme and plugin updates tested before they go live, off-site backups, uptime and security monitoring, and the small fixes that come up in between. If an update breaks something, rolling it back and sorting it out is part of the plan, not a separate invoice.

A flat monthly retainer scoped to your stack: how many sites, how big the plugin footprint is, and how much hands-on time you expect. Agreed in writing before it starts, so there is no hourly meter running.

Most of the time, yes. A large share of our work is inheriting sites someone else built: auditing them, stabilising them, then improving them from there. We start with a free audit so both sides know what we are taking on.

You reach us and we triage within the hour, then work the incident until the site is back. Our team is in Bangalore and we work in our clients time zones, so out of hours for you is often working hours for us.
