Questions

What people ask before they start

Something not covered here? Ask us directly and an engineer will answer.

Ask a question (https://codetrappers.com/contact/)

Maintenance keeps the site running. A retainer is engineering time for work you choose: features, improvements, integrations, the backlog nobody gets to. The same people each sprint, working in your time zone, with the scope agreed before each block of work.

Tell us and we will plan around it rather than pretending the month was full. A retainer only works when both sides are honest about capacity, and a quiet month is a good time to do the technical debt nobody schedules.

Yes, with notice, and the code and documentation are yours throughout. A retainer that is hard to leave is a retainer that stops earning its place.
